

Getting Here

Macarthur Wilson is located in the Dean House building found on Whiteladies Road in Clifton, Bristol.

By train

Clifton Down is the nearest train station and it is less than a 5 minute walk to reach Macarthur Wilson.

From the M5

Travelling south on the M5 motorway leave at J17. Follow Clifton signs along Cribbs Causeway (A4018). At the roundabout take the left fork along Wyck Beck Road (still A4018). Keep straight on. Road names will change: Passage Road, Brentry Hill, Falcondale Road, Westbury Road. You will eventually come across open land on your right (The Downs). At this point go straight on at the first roundabout and after approximately half a mile you will come to another roundabout with a large NatWest building on the left. Follow signs to City Centre (A4018) continue straight on down Blackboy Hill and on to Whiteladies Road. Congratulations, you are now in Clifton and on the map! Find us at the corner of Hurle Road and Whiteladies Road.

From the M4

Coming from the east it is best to join M5 southbound and follow instructions above rather than coming through the town centre via M32.
